DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the response filed on 21 October 2004, which has been entered in the file.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,655,591. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because in claims 1-20 of the instant application, Applicant claims a system and a method that powers a master-slave device arrangement comprising a power source that powers a master device through a slave device connected thereto and a power detector that senses power provided to the master device and based thereupon regulates a power to the slave device.

Claims 1-20 of the U.S. Patent 6,655,591 show and disclose a method of reducing power consumption in a data collection device having a scan engine component and an interface component comprises providing a power detector in the interface component, sensing power delivered to the scan engine component using the power detector, and selectively reducing power delivered to at least a portion of the interface component according to the sensed power delivered to the scan engine component.

Therefore, as discussed above, the scope of claims 1-20 of the present application and claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent 6,655,591 are practically identical.
